Art

Monday, October 23, 2006 - Monday, October 30, 2006

Davide Tirelli, a well-known Italian artist presents his latest works (bitumen on canvas and cardboard), and a selection of the most important works from his artistic career (fire-sculptured plastic lava sculptures and reinterpretations of baroque paintings on road signs) at the London Light Gallery.

The work of Davide Tirelli keeps the deepness of the unconscious intact, and therefore the dream through a twisted language, that boils and explodes in almost sonorous forms. It is such an innovative and avant-garde art form that it should be breathed, not understood.
